TransForce
Safety Week
April 2-8, 2017

Congratulations to Hal Wagner TransForce Driver of the Year 2016!

At TransForce, we believe that safety is a shared commitment among our customers, our drivers and ourselves. TransForce is dedicated to safety and compliance. We ask all of our drivers to take the safety pledge and help keep TransForce the safest company in the industry.

Drivers are encouraged to visit their local branches during TransForce Safety Week. You can win prizes!

This Year's safety theme focuses on preventing distracted driving.

1. Keep your eyes and mind on the road at all times while driving.
2. Resist mental distractions like thinking about family or work related issues while driving.
3. Do not give in to visual distractions such as taking your eyes off the road to check the GPS.
4. Avoid manual distractions like steering with one hand while eating.

Take the Safety Pledge!

- ◆ I am a professional safe, employee.
- ◆ Safety is my top priority.
- ◆ I will work toward the goal of zero accidents and injuries.
- ◆ I know it is my career. I will contribute to TransForce's safety culture.
- ◆ I will be "Driven by Higher Standards."

Hal Wagner has driven over 3 Million Accident-Free miles and surpassed 20 years without a moving violation since he began his driving career in 1971 at 19 years old.

Early in his career, Hal drove many years as an Owner-Operator (O/O) and owned as many as six trucks. In 2008 he decided to switch gears (pun intended) and joined TransForce (formerly Superior Drivers).

In his career at TransForce, Hal has predominantly run dedicated lanes at Conrad Transportation. Hal is always punctual for assignments and willing to do extra runs to help meet the customer's needs. He also keeps the branch informed of any new business opportunities that he becomes aware of in the industry like recruitment opportunities of drivers from companies whose businesses have started to slow down.

Hal has been extremely helpful to the Nashville branch by acting as a quasi-safety advisor. He has provided valuable input on how the branch could better deliver client specific safety messages. He also assists the branch with reviews when a specific driver or client has recurring accidents. He studies the facts of the accidents, makes site evaluations and gives crucial, unbiased driver feedback from his observations.

Hal is an extremely valuable asset to the Nashville branch and to TransForce as a whole. He epitomizes a first rate driver – the type of driver every TransForce client seeks.

Congratulations to Hal Wagner, TransForce's Driver of the Year 2016!
