The TransForce Group Acquires American Driver Network (ADN) 7th Brand under the TransForce Group

PRESS RELEASE:

ALEXANDRIA, VA - February 15, 2019 — The TransForce Group, the nation's leading transportation workforce solutions provider, completed another key acquisition with the purchase of American Driver Network (ADN), adding to the Group's Recruiting and Employment Solutions. ADN provides the largest driver-specific network of websites, job boards, job postings and affiliate employment websites available in today's internet-based job market.

“Our acquisition of the American Driver Network further enhances our ability to reach even more drivers in a market where commercial drivers increasingly utilize digital jobs boards as one means to search for available jobs,” says David Broome, President and CEO of the TransForce Group.

ADN is the 7th brand to fit into the TransForce Group Portfolio. The brand will fit under TransForce Group Recruiting and Employment Solutions, one of three current business solutions provided by the Group. The remaining solutions remain Education and Training, and Safety and Compliance.

With the purchase of ADN, the TransForce Group now houses the most comprehensive Internet resources available for recruiting truck drivers in today's digital, interactive, and information driven markets. No other interactive resources can offer the Internet reach, placement, exposure or results for companies recruiting commercial drivers today.

“We are excited to join the TransForce Group of brands,” says ADN President Jim Davis. “TransForce is the future of workforce solutions in the transportation industry and we are honored to join their organization during this exciting period of growth.

Jim Davis and the ADN team will continue to manage and operate the brand.
